DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1 and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Rubio, et al. (US 4,938,126) in view of Hayashi, et al. (US 4,318,678). The patent to Rubio, et al. discloses the claimed subject matter except for the means for pivoting the second discharge conveyor (40) in the manner set forth in the claims. The patent to Hayashi, et al. discloses that it is known in the art to provide a means for synchronizing a pivoting means of a second continuous discharge conveyor (15,15'). Thus, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have provided the second discharge conveyor of Rubio, et al. with means for synchronizing and means for pivoting in the manner suggested by Hayashi, et al. in order to pivot between a lower position and an upper position to accommodate objects, if desired.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 2-4 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claims 10-12 are allowable over the prior art of record.

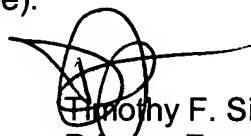

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new grounds of rejection.
